

Maintain Safe Distance at Retail Registers

Easy to install

Easy to control

Before

Many supermarkets and other retailers are trying to help customers maintain safe social distances at cash registers by putting markers on the floor or other means. However, because of the distance, customers are not aware of when a cash register is available causing congestion and slowing the checkout process

After

The HSST Kit can be used to alert customers of the status of cash registers by displaying different colors. This will improve the checkout process, thus reducing congestion.
